Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 04 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Becoming windy and colder in north. Warm sunshine elsewhere.

Today:
Early frost clearing, then spells of warm sunshine for much of England and Wales. Cloudier further north and becoming windy across Scotland where a band of rain will come south this afternoon introducing a change to much colder conditions.

Tonight:
Band of rain, with snow on back edge coming quickly south into central parts by dawn. Much colder behind with sleet and snow showers in north. Gales in the northeast.

Monday:
Band of rain and snow clearing the south. Then very cold with sunshine although snow showers affecting the north and areas exposed to the northerly wind. Gales in the northeast.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Very cold and windy with further wintry showers on Tuesday. Drier, but still cold, on Wednesday. Less cold through Thursday, but with rain and strong winds in the north.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.